

Truman Emphasizes Early Aid to Europe, Banks on Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Truman called on Congressional leaders today to start the machinery for emergency aid to Europe but said the question of a special session of Congress remains to be decided.

In an extraordinary news conference, called on short notice after a meeting with Congressional leaders, Mr. Truman disclosed:

1. He is asking the Senate and House committees on appropriations and foreign affairs to meet as soon as possible "to consider the urgent need for aid to Western Europe."

2. If the committees agree wholeheartedly on the need of a special session, then there will be no question about his calling one. In any event, he stands where he has stood. He will call one if he is convinced it is needed.

3. Sums available now to help Europe are enough to carry to December on a starvation basis—he couldn't be specific as to when in December—and then the pipeline of aid would be empty.

4. He figures that $500,000,000 additional will be needed to carry France, Italy and Austria through until March 31, 1948, likewise on a starvation basis. He cannot provide any of this by executive action, he said.

5. England does not seem to be in a serious situation at this time as compared to the three countries named. Belgium and the low countries, Mr. Truman told a questioner, have been able to pay for their needs and appear to be still able to do so.

It was learned that Senator Vandenberg, (R-Mich.), chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, plans to have a call to his committee tomorrow. Chairman Bridges (R-NH) announced he would announce the Senate appropriations committee to meet in mid-November.

Chairman Eaton (R-NJ) of the House foreign affairs committee, announced that it will meet in early November. Rep. Tager (R-NY), chairman of the House appropriations committee, is currently in Europe on an inspection trip.

As the hurriedly-called newsman pined into the presidential office, Mr. Truman stood behind his desk and said the congressional and Cabinet leaders with whom he met this morning had asked him to read a statement on the European aid situation.

He said it was a very harmonious and a very good conference he had had with the lawmakers, that everybody who wanted to say anything had had a chance to get it off his chest. He added he thought it was a very constructive meeting.

Then he read from a mimeographed statement:

"The question of the calling of a special session of the Congress was discussed at length. Whatever decision may be reached on this subject at a later date, it was the opinion of all that the committee should begin to consider the present emergency at the earliest possible moment that the members are available.

"Recent events have brought (Continued on Page Fifteen)

U. S. Protests Soviet Writer Libeled Truman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—The United States has protested to Moscow that a Soviet writer libeled Truman by comparing him to Hitler, and Moscow has rejected the protest, the State department disclosed today.

The text of notes exchanged between U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov showed that Molotov not only rejected any responsibility for the offending article but also lashed out bitterly against "that American press which is so widely encouraged by the most reactionary circles."

Michael McDermott, State department press officer, told reporters that the department has not had time to determine the next step in the latest incident of worsening relations between Washington and Moscow.

McDermott said Smith had given copies of the American protest to American news correspondents in Moscow the past Saturday. "But nothing seems to have got (Continued on Page Sixteen)

It's a Sure Sign Autumn Is Really Here

A day or two of warm weather may have prompted Lovie Jane Kline, 421 May street, to don a Summer dress, but she knew that Autumn was really here when a variegated display of dead leaves on her lawn made her bring out the rake and get to work. Mild temperatures prevailed yesterday afternoon but a return to Fall chills is the prediction as October comes around the corner tomorrow.

Milk Goes Up Cent In Price Tomorrow

The price of milk will take a seasonal jump tomorrow, with the one cent increase bringing the cost of Grace B milk, the quality most commonly used, to 20 cents a quart retail.

This means that the actual cost of a single quart of B milk will be 21 cents. The cost of two quarts, however, will be 41 cents, and in computing home delivery bills that are paid weekly or monthly, the price of 20 cents a quart will be charged.

"The increase is made to give producers an incentive to produce milk during the fall," explained Walter Grow, of the Clover Leaf dairies.

"In reality, this is not a raise," he declared, "but a seasonal fluctuation. The yearly average price now is 19 cents."

According to an order of the Pennsylvania Milk Control commission, the retail price of 20 cents in the Reading area will continue until Dec. 31.

Effective Jan. 1, 1948, the price of B milk will drop one cent to 19 cents, and then to 18 cents on April 1 with that low price continuing until June 30, when the swing again will move to the higher price.

The higher price is not a new step out one that was ordered by the commission the past April. The schedule for the ensuing year will hold, barring emergency changes.

Attempts of Philadelphia milk dealers to raise the cost of milk one cent over the permissible limit was squelched by the Milk Control commission as "unwarranted now."

The price of B milk in the Philadelphia marketing area will be 20 cents a quart, effective tomorrow.

Prices of other grades of milk tomorrow will be: Quarts—A, 22 cents; B, 20 cents; C, 18 cents. Cream will be 82 cents a quart, 45 cents a pint, and 24 cents for a half pint, representing an increase of approximately two cents.

NEW APPOINTEE TO POLICE FORCE IS CONSIDERED

Move Studied as Result Of Extra Work Expected With New Parking Meters

Possibility of an appointment of another patrolman to the Pottstown police force arose yesterday as borough officials contemplated the extra work involved in checking the borough's 220 additional parking meters.

Installation of the meters on King street, between York and Washington streets, and on Hanover street, between King and Chestnut streets, is expected to be completed this week. In this event, they will be put into operation next week.

Last night Burgess William A. Griffith, in commenting on the extra police work resulting from the new meters, said the recommendation for appointment of an additional police officer is being contemplated.

He said the police committee, of which Leo Spear is chairman, has not yet been asked to act on the recommendation. Any action taken along this line by the police committee will have to be acted upon by borough council.

The Burgess said if meters are to be effective they must be given proper police surveillance. When the new meters are put into operation, the total number in the borough will be approximately 631.

Yesterday the work of installing meters proceeded with celerity. They were installed on King street between York and Hanover streets and on Hanover between King and Chestnut. If favorable weather conditions continue, all of the meters may be in position by Thursday.

At the present time the police force consists of 17 regular officers, including Chief of Police James A. Laughhead and Sgt. Daniel J. Linton. There are three special officers.

According to State police department experts, a well-manned police force consists of one policeman for every 1000 inhabitants.

Nephrosis Takes Life of Boy, 8, In Berks County

READING, Sept. 29 (AP)—Almost three months to the day that he entered St. Joseph's hospital, eight-year-old Errol Lee Schwoyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schwoyer, of Lyons, lost his fight against a rare kidney disease, nephrosis, when he died tonight.

Little more than three weeks ago contributors had raised more than $5000 to provide salt-free albumen treatment for Errol Lee and another young victim, Gary Santasprui, who is a patient in the Reading hospital where he was reported in an improved condition.

A third nephrosis case, that of four-year-old Joanne Stranck, Givensville, also is reported improved, and the girl continues to receive albumen treatment at her home.

Joanne was discharged from Reading hospital on May 20 after being hospitalized for 522 days.

Parkerford Pedestrian Hit By Car Near Barricade At Route 83-100 Junction

William Shellenberger, Parkerford, an employee of the Pennsylvania railroad, was injured seriously early yesterday morning when he was struck by a car after leaving a barricade which he was guarding at the intersection of Routes 83 and 100.

According to Daniel W. Guldin, North Coventry police officer, Shellenberger was detailed to detour northbound traffic on Route 100 right to Route 83 while the Pennsylvania grade crossing was undergoing repairs.

For an undetermined reason, he left the barricade and was struck by a car driven by George J. Monks, Philadelphia. Monks claimed Shellenberger walked directly into the path of his car.

The victim was taken to Pottstown hospital in a Good Will ambulance. He was treated by Dr. R. A. Boykirk for lacerations of the face, a possible fractured skull, a fractured nose, broken ribs and bruised burns of the body and legs. Fifteen sutures were required to close a cut on his face.

Two cars were damaged in a crash at King and Franklin streets at 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A report was made to Miss Betty Reber, police department clerk.

The report stated that a car operated by Norman McLaughlin, Jr. of Schwenksville RD 1, was going west on King street. He said that a car operated by Henry A. Balenot, of Schuylville, Barto RD was going north on Franklin street. McLaughlin said he pulled around the other vehicle, which had halted, and hit it.

The right front fender of the Balenot car was scratched while the left front fender and hub cap of the McLaughlin car were damaged.

Arabs Promise Last-Ditch Battle Against Palestine Partition Move

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Arabs of Palestine, through their official agency declared today they would fight "with the last drop of our blood" against any scheme for the "dissection, segregation or partition" of the Holy Land.

In quiet tones, Jamal Husseini, vice-chairman of the Arab higher committee and nephew of the exiled Mufti of Jerusalem, rejected a proposal for partition of Palestine into Arab and Jewish states and an alternate plan for federalization.

It was Husseini's day—and the Arab round—before the special 53-nation committee on Palestine set up by the United Nations assembly. The turn of the Jewish agency for Palestine will come Wednesday afternoon.

Husseini insisted that "the future government of Palestine cannot be imposed from without." He called for an independent democratic Arab state.

In another major development in the assembly, the United States and Britain struck back at Soviet bloc charges in the political committee that the western powers were trying to "enslave Greece." They said they wanted only to help the Greek people.

Two key assembly figures were absent as the delegates began their third week with a steady grind of committee work.

Secretary of State Marshall was in Washington conferring with President Truman on the European situation. He expected to return to New York tonight in time for two full sessions tomorrow at Flushing Meadow Park at which the delegates will increase the U.N. membership to 57 by admitting Yemen and Pakistan and vote to fill approaching vacancies in the security and economic and social councils.

Marshall's principal antagonist in the continuing Russian-U.S. battle here, Andrei V. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister and chief of the Soviet delegation, also was expected at the assembly sessions tomorrow. He and Marshall leave the burden of the committee work to their deputies.

After one day of assembly work, the delegates will return to Lake (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Chilly Fall Air Equals 1942 Record, Then Shoots Up to 67 in Afternoon

Typical of the antics of the past few days, yesterday's weather equalled the low record of 37 degrees, set in 1942 and then shot up 30 points to a comparatively mild 67 degrees late in the afternoon.

All of which goes to prove that, although Summer still may play an occasional return appearance during the next few weeks, Autumn is here to stay.

Reading weatherman Charles S. Ling called Sunday night's temperature a falling frost, and declared that the growing season is over.

The heavy frost was the earliest on record to be characterized as "killing." The normal time for it to come to this area is about Oct. 15.

In spite of yesterday afternoon's relative warmth, genuine Fall cold is on its way, as a high pressure area, north of North Dakota, began to move east.

As the last day of September rolls around, it was recalled that October, 1945, and 1946, were mild, but Ling could give no forecast for the coming month.

The prediction for today is partly cloudy, windy and cooler, with occasional scattered showers. Tonight should be clear, with heavy frosts and possibly freezing temperatures.

The cold snap will continue to morrow, but the skies are expected to be clear.

Governor Duff Views Increase in Gas Price

HARRISBURG, Sept. 29 (AP)—Residents of Philadelphia are "going to get a big price raise" in gas rates unless the big and little pipelines are made available for transmission of natural gas, Gov. James H. Duff declared today.

It was for this reason, the governor explained at his press conference, that the State has urged the Federal power commission to approve the sale of the pipelines to the Texas East Transmission company.

British Hand Top Economic Post To Cripps; Attlee Shakes Cabinet

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps tonight was named minister of economic affairs—a new post created to centralize in one man broad powers for dealing with Britain's economic crisis.

He will be succeeded as president of the board of trade by James Harold Wilson, 31-year-old "boy wonder" of the Labor government.

Wilson, as secretary for overseas trade, has been Cripps' principal aide.

Prime Minister Attlee, who announced the cabinet changes, will head temporarily a new ministerial committee on economic planning, "in view of the gravity" of the situation which has forced Britain to suspend convertibility of sterling and (Continued on Page Fifteen) curial purchases of necessities abroad.

Arthur Greenwood, veteran Labor politician now minister without portfolio, is leaving the government as the first of the "older men" who Attlee said previously must make way for younger members of the party.

In explaining the designation of Cripps as virtual czar over the British economy, Attlee said the present situation called for "a much closer integration of internal and external economic policy," and that the prime minister needed the assistance of a senior colleague, who can give his undivided attention to our economic problems at home and abroad.

Attlee said the changes were only the first of a series.

Keep Out of Politics, Is Sen. Taft's Word To College Presidents

MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 29 (AP)—College presidents, Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said today, should "stay out of politics."

The Ohio senator, stumping the Far West to sound out his political chances for the 1948 GOP presidential nomination denied later that the utterance—made facetiously before a luncheon audience—was directed at General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who will assume the presidency of Columbia university the first of next year.

Questioned by reporters Taft laughed. "I never even thought of Eisenhower," he said.

Pressed to say whether he would apply his advice to "all college presidents," Taft repeated: "I think it's a wise policy for college presidents to stay out of politics."

The college president incident popped up at a luncheon this noon in Pullman, Wash., in the heart of Eastern Washington farming country where Republican leaders have acknowledged the political potency of the Eisenhower name—now heard not infrequently through the Pacific Northwest in connection with (Continued on Page Fifteen)

FBI Probes Election On Labor Act Angle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—The FBI has begun an investigation of the Sept. 9 congressional election in the 8th Pennsylvania District to determine if there was any violation of the Taft-Hartley Labor act it was learned tonight.

A person in a position to know told a reporter the investigation followed receipt by the FBI of a complaint that the activities of unionists in the election were in violation of a provision of the act which prohibits a labor organization or corporation from expending funds in behalf of a candidate in a Federal election.

Spokesmen for the FBI and the Department of Justice declined to comment on the report.

In the election, Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, 37-year-old Republican speaker of the Pennsylvania House, defeated by a wide margin Phil B. Storch, 36 Democrat, president of the Lehigh Valley Newspaper Guild, an affiliate of the CIO.

The 8th Pennsylvania District includes Bucks and Lehigh counties and is normally Republican.

The election was to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Rep. Charles L. Gerlach, Republican.

Sea Scouts Plan Father-Son Event

Instruction in five Sea scout requirements and planning for Father and Son night highlighted last night's meeting of the SSS, Bucaer in its quarters in the Firestone plant.

Led by Mate William Whitman, the Sea Scouts were instructed in the School of Sea Scouts, drills, knot-tying, compass bearing and semaphore. After the learning period, games were played.

Oct. 6 is the night for the Father and Son gathering. Skipper William Glenney announced that there will be football movies, a talk by a grid coach and refreshments.

Neighborhood Commissioner Garret Nye complimented the group on its performance during the Summer period and outlined briefly the Scout-O-Rama to be held here later in the Fall.

Skipper Glenney also announced that some of the scouts still need blue Navy uniforms, neckerchiefs and gobs hats. He urged any returner desiring to contribute such clothing to call him at 1610-R.

Membership Campaign Of Town Hall Is Delayed

The membership drive of the 1947 season of Town Hall, which was scheduled to begin yesterday, has been delayed for a few days. Marvin Lippack, chairman of the drive committee, announced last night.

The delay was unavoidable, Lippack said, since he was called to Washington, D. C. before he was able to assemble the teams for the campaign.

Under present plans, the team memberships will be made up today or tomorrow. The drive will begin as soon as they are completed. Applications for season tickets, which are priced at $3, will be available at The Mercury office at that time.

Neighbor Confesses Slaying Student, 16, With Claw Hammer

MARION, O., Sept. 29 (P)—A 32-year-old, slightly built handyman admitted today he killed 16-year-old Roxie Ann Green with a claw hammer, signed a statement and led authorities to the girl's body.

Prosecutor James Reed said he would charge Sheppard with first degree murder tomorrow.

The sheriff said Sheppard, married and the father of one child, denied making improper advances to the girl after he picked her up in his model-A Ford as she walked the three miles from her home to her country home after missing the last bus following a football game Sept. 28.

The balding Sheppard related Miss Green rode on the fence of his car and jumped off when he drove past the lane leading to her home because he didn't know which house she lived in, the statement said.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green, was knocked unconscious by the fall, and he put her in the front seat, intending to take her to a doctor, Sheppard was quoted.

She regained consciousness during the drive, and began to cry and scream, threatening to have him arrested for kidnapping, Sheppard said in his statement.

Laborites Now Call

T-H Law Safeguard

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—Organized labor has taken both a lesson and a licking within the last few weeks. But both ordeals eventually may operate to the advantage of the average, hard-working employee and the members of his family.

Lichtenwalter

The professional laborites lost a great deal of prestige when Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, the Republican nominee whom they had condemned as an advocate of the Taft-Hartley slave law won a special election in the 12th Pennsylvania District. As a supposed showman on the public and signals of a political public of that controversial statute, it was a decisive blow to the cash-and-carry labor leaders who, without even reading the bill, have lambasted it as cruel and reactionary.

Letters pouring into the White House and the offices of Congressmen convey the impression that the 15,000,000 in industrial workers are coming to regard the law as a safeguard rather than a measure of economic slavery.

AFFIDAVIT: Numerous union officials, in letters to the President, Senator Taft of Ohio and Representative Harley of New Jersey, have assailed AP of L and CIO officials for their attitude toward the statute. They are especially incensed over John L. Lewis's refusal to sign the NLRB affidavit to the effect that he is not a communist.

Although Lewis, as head of the United Mine Workers, is only one of 15 AF of L vice-presidents, he bucked President William Green and the other 14 v.p.'s on this question at the recent, Cleveland meeting of the organization's executive committee and, as usual, Lewis won't.

By not agreeing to sign the I-am-not-a-communist oath, and by forcing the AP of L rulers to adopt his viewpoint, Lewis has deprived every small local union the rights and privileges which they would otherwise enjoy under both the Wagner and Taft-Hartley acts. By Lewis flat, so to speak, they are outlaws insofar as government aid and protection are concerned.

ALLEGANCE: To say that local union leaders are sore is to put it mildly. They have written Washington labor headquarters, demanding that the AP of L abandon the stiff-necked attitude forced upon it by the coal miners' boss.

In short, John L.'s defiance has done more to educate the average workman on the merits and demerits of the Taft-Hartley Law than any other happening.

Comparatively few American workers are registered communists, or believe in that system of economics, politics and government. They think it no stain or stigma to say or swear so. In fact, according to the communications reaching Washington, they are only too willing to voice allegiance to the flag as against the hammer and sickle.

MANAGEMENT: The nation's greatest corporations, including U. S. Steel, Good-year Tire and Rubber and Chrysler, to mention only a few, have taken over the task of telling their working people what the Taft-Hartley Law allows and forbids. Under the supervised Wagner Labor Relations Act, management was not permitted to speak to the shop.

In luncheon talks, in booklets and in advertisements, in newspapers and magazines, employers have tried to present an honest and candid analysis of the most important labor law enacted in the nation's history.

As AF of L and CIO speeches, statements and publicity have been devoted to only a brutal attack on the T-H legislation, the men most affected by it are learning about its key purpose and provisions for the first time.

And, although even its House and Senate authors admit that their handiwork may need amendment, in labor's favor, especially in the presidential year of 1948, the 15,000,000 men and women employed behind the nation's machines appreciate, by their letters indicate, that the law tends to free them instead of to enslave them.

MARTIN: The Republicans are following Speaker Joseph W. Martin's current trips across the nation with special interest. Although the modest, likable Massachusetts man maintains that his tour is only a pre-1948, exploratory expedition, he figures as a possible, presidential nominee in almost every practical politician's imagination. Here is their pro-Martin analysis.

Governor Dewey of New York and Senator Taft of Ohio, the two leading candidates for the moment, may kill each other off with the first two or three roll calls. They doubt if Harold E. Stassen or Senator Arthur Vandenberg can make it in the stretch race that will follow the Dewey-Taft elimination.

They may be wrong—"pro" politicians are often short-sighted and narrow-minded—but they are still cold toward the candidates of General Eisenhower and MacArthur.

Under such circumstances, the plain, down-to-earth "Joe" Martin might be the man of the political hour. Many clubhouse Democrats, who would vote for no other Republican, would pump for him.

And if, in 1948, the people are resentful against 16 years of Democratic rule, with a "White House crisis" biting them in the face or mind every few weeks, they might welcome such a sane, quiet, unexcitable individual as "Speaker Joe."

In Hollywood

By JUDITH FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Sept. 29—

Among the many Hollywood parents who took their spring-offs to the opening of a new store called The Toy Menagerie were Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Cooper. Jackie, like most of the papas present, was fascinated by the lavish display of electrical toys. While examining a miniature derrick, he managed to break it and was promptly reprimanded by the little woman. "Why do you have to act like you're in your second childhood?" she demanded. Jackie pondered that one for a long moment, then came up with the unflinching answer: "Maybe it's because I'm having a heck of a lot more fun than I did in my first one!"

The dramatic highlight of RKO's "Station West" is a terrific knock-down and drag-out fight between Dick Powell and Big Boy Williams. Instead of showing that sequence in its proper chronology, Director Sidney Lanfield decided to hold it for the final day of production. Summoning a make-up expert to the set, he explained that Powell would have to be made up for most of his scenes with an assortment of phony bumps, bruises and abrasions. "Lanfield nodded. "Okay," he said. "Do you think you can make him look like he's taken a terrific mauling?" he asked. The make-up man looked at Powell, then at gigantic Big Boy Williams. "Powell in the fight, doesn't he?" he asked. Lanfield nodded. "Okay," said the make-up man. "I'll meet you half way. If you can make his victory seem authentic, I'll guarantee to make the bruises look genuine!"

A dog's life in Hollywood is certainly not to be despised—if the dog in question happens to be Lassie. No human prima donna could possibly be the object of more coddling than MGM's dog star is receiving on its current location pants to the High Sierra. For Lassie's exclusive use are 50 gallons of special, bottled water and 50 pounds of choice, prime-priced beef. And the cabin set aside for Lassie and his trainer (that's right, Lassie's a "he") is the choicest cabin in the entire district.

The more I hear about Jean Peters, the ex-Ohio farm girl who skyrocketed to screen stardom as Tyrone Power's leading lady in "Captain From Castile," the more I'm inclined to think that she's a noteworthy contrast to the run-of-the-mill Hollywood glamour girl. Last week, for instance, an Eastern magazine scribe (one of the aces in the field) went to her home for an interview. Miss Peters had forgotten the engagement. He found her in a pair of grease-covered overalls, repairing the oil pump on her car. It seems she's an A-1 mechanic, who used to do all the work on her papa's tractor!

The director of "The Paleface," keeps a big blackboard on the set and uses it, before each scene, to sketch the positions of his players and the camera angles that he desires. Ever since the picture started, Bob Hope and Jane Russell have been using the blackboard for another purpose. Between scenes, they take turns writing on it complimentary jingles about one another. Yesterday, when I visited the set, Jane had just had her turn with the chalk. Her "poem" read: "Calamity Jane drew her rusty gun, and blew Hope's brains out one by one. One shot was fired."

No Time for Lies

When your own hand is so worthless that the defense against the contract is bound to depend entirely on your partner's hand—that is no time for false-carding, which probably will fool him as much as the declarer. The only safe time for deception by a defender is when he knows that misleading his partner won't do any harm. That usually is when his own hand contains practically all the important strength held against the declarer.

♠ A 3	♥ J 9 6 4	♦ A K 5 3	♣ J 8
Q 10 8	5 4	10 5 3	9 7

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

Here was a case of the Blackwood convention not giving South the answers he needed. If the two aces shown by the 3-Heart's response had been in spades and clubs, three fast tricks could have been lost in diamonds; if they had been in the two minors, two quick spade tricks could have been dropped. As it was, three possible losers were in prospect—one each in clubs, diamonds and spades. South's bidding of the slam was on general principles, and he had to be very lucky to make it.

The bidding sounded awful strong to West, who mistakenly felt he called for a false-card type of defense. So he led the diamond 7 instead of the conventional top of his doubton. East, after the A won that and South played the 4, reasoned that with no lower cards hidden, it was either a singleton or fourth-best; it could not be the latter because, in that case, West would also have the J, 10 and 9, in which event he would have led the J. Treating the 7 then as a singleton caused East to give South his contract.

To the second trick, South led the club 8 from dummy. East read South as surely having the K, played his A in the hope of finding it singleton, also so he could fire back a quick diamond for West to ruff. South won with the J, cleared trumps, discarded a spade on a club and so was home. With West leading his diamond 9, East would have been sure to take a diamond trick.

♠ 8 5	♥ K J 6 3 2	♦ A J 6 4	♣ 4 2
A 5 4 2	10 9 8 7	Q 5	7 6 3

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

Can you imagine any way whereby South could make 3-No Trumps on this deal?

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. RUNDESEN, M. D.

THE cause of epilepsy has been sought for centuries, unfortunately without much success. This fact, known to many people has led them to the false conclusion that this disease, which may cause distressing loss of consciousness and, often, convulsions cannot be treated successfully.

As a matter of fact, the treatment of epilepsy today is remarkably successful, so much so that competent experts estimate that fully 80 percent of all afflicted with the disease can be rendered free or nearly free of epileptic seizures.

Meanwhile, the search for ultimate causes of the disease continues. While they have not yet been discovered, there are promising clues.

We know, for instance, that certain types of epilepsy result from head injuries. In other cases, excessive use of alcohol or glandular disturbances seem to be responsible.

Of course, not all alcoholics become epileptic; far from it. Nor do all glandular disorders lead to epilepsy. But what we have observed is that disturbances in the pancreas, the gland which manufactures insulin, the sex glands and the little parathyroid glands located in the neck do sometimes seem to be connected with epileptic seizures.

The time between epileptic seizures varies to a great extent. However, during the early years of youth and during the maturing period, the attacks seem to come on more frequently.

Recently we have found out that it is possible to make electrical tracings of waves from the brain by means of an instrument known as an electro-encephalograph. In epilepsy these brain waves are abnormal. Hence, the use of this instrument may be helpful in making a diagnosis.

It is important to realize that the vast majority of persons with epilepsy can be relieved with the modern methods of treatment. But, first of all, an effort should be made to improve the patient's general health through proper physical exercises in the open air, in cool, well-ventilated bedrooms, and the proper diet. The use of alcohol should be prohibited. If the attacks are infrequent, coffee may be permitted in moderation.

Three main kinds of drugs are employed in epilepsy: the barbiturates, sodium dilantin, and a form of the latter preparations known as phenylmethylhydantoinate.

In most cases, prolonged treatment is necessary to bring the attacks under control.

Thus, a patient with epilepsy must remain under the constant care of the doctor so that progress of the disease can be carefully watched and the best treatment devised to hold it in check. Since their drugs are powerful, and in some cases may be totally ineffective in any one case.

We should be careful to deserve a good reputation by doing well; and when that care is once taken, not to be over-anxious about the success.—Rochester.

I. O. U., $2050

TOTAL debt in the United States on Jan. 1 was nearly 400 billion dollars, a staggering figure. It averages $2650 for every living American, which is still more staggering in the simple terms people understand. Of the $2050, $1197 is federal debt and $72 is owed by state and local governments. Here is $1269 per capita that must eventually be paid off by taxes. The $781 remainder is private debt of individuals and corporations.

Private debt increased last year and, according to the Commerce Department, is rising this year. Therefore, the total debt burden will increase unless public debt comes down at least as much as private debt goes up. Furthermore, every dollar not paid off the public debt continues to exact interest charges from every man, woman and child.

The moral is evident, but it will not keep some of the people who moan over debt from espousing a policy to raise it still higher. Without a doubt, that $1197 federal figure will be cake-walked through the next Congress and paraded with torchlights in the campaigns. While the boom lasts, however, anyone who suggests cutting taxes and raising the debt still higher can be dismissed as talking through a tall hat.

Old Deer and Sea Horse

A WHISKY recipe found by federal agents in New York's Chinatown brings on a nostalgic twinge. "Place one live rattlesnake in a large jar," it goes. "Add rice wine, dried toads, soy beans, sliced deer antlers and a handful of dried sea horses." This is so obviously the stuff they sold during prohibition that we were set a-dreaming of those 13 mad years that ended what seems another life ago but was really only 1933.

Whisky of the sort mentioned above was only one of many novelties of prohibition. Actually the Eighteenth Amendment took an ordinary business transaction and made it a romantic adventure from beginning to end. It was an adventure to buy the whisky; and after drinking it, it was an adventure to speculate on the likely effect. The vertiginous greenhorn could feel like a man-about-town by knocking at the speakeasy door and proving to the satisfaction of the man who looked out through a little slot that he knew Tony.

Prudence, always a relative term, was exemplified by a test to determine whether the whisky was really poisonous or only tasted that way. A match was set to a small amount of it. If it burned with a blue flame it was all right, but if it burned red it was poison—or so it was believed. The rule was to drink it in either event, and that was why the recipe with the deer antlers and the sea horses took us back so sharply. That was the whisky, and there was, in fact, the days.

Vets Show Church Interest

SINCE the dawn of Christianity service of the cross has been the goal of many a warrior weary of blood and battle. But how well traveled was the path from foxhole to pulpit after World War II?

Last week a tabulation of the courses being taken by 1,825,000 school-going veterans gave the answer: Only about 9000 were studying for the ministry. Most observers agreed that the figure represents only the men who were planning that career before they went to war. In another way, however, the ancient reaction seemed strong: From practically every church in the land had come reports that (1) veterans seemed to be paying more attention to church than before they went to war, and (2) many churches were reserving spots in their lay organizations for "veterans only."

School Laws Reach 400

SINCE the founding of the free public school a century ago, legislatures have been passing laws on education.

Last week, however, the National Education Association reported a bumper crop. A record-breaking total—about 400—were passed in the last 12 months.

Most of them concerned salary increases. Thus 41 states passed emergency appropriations to grant teachers cost-of-living bonuses or to raise their minimum salaries. New or liberalized retirement plans were enacted in 27 states.

Editor, The Mercury, September 29, Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where it must be tough on those United Nations statesmen attempting to concentrate on achieving world unity—in a city split apart by that Yankee-Dodger series:

An item says scientists now are trying to find out what makes parrots talk. What's the difference? As long as they don't start making political speeches—let 'em jabber!

And say: If men's pants become shorter—as is threatened—many a fellow will discover he really is too big for his britches!

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

PHILIP B. 21, is one of the most influential seniors at the university.

"Philip, how do you judge whether a girl is attractive or not?" I asked during our interview.

"Well, if all the other fellows whistle admiringly when you enter the room with him," he replied, "you already feel that your evening is a success."

"A fellow could go away from the dance or party at that very moment and still be quite happy."

"Is that all you are interested in regarding a girl?" I inquired.

"Oh, no, that's only part of it. And fellows don't consider beauty the most important item, even though they like to impress their pals with a pretty woman."

"We like girls who can make us feel at ease. Too many co-eds try to put on the ritz and act snooty. They effect boredom and seem to feel it is childish to be natural and really have a jolly time."

A popular girl, though, is one who can make a fellow feel at ease even if his coat should be torn or his clothes not appropriate for the occasion. Dr. Crane, why do girls act so snootish today?"

The snob is simply hungry for friends and admiration, so she tries to talk and act sophisticated, thinking her companions will therefore invite her to be a member of their group.

She fears to let them know she is from little Pottuck lest they snub her. Like too many modern Americans, she suffers from the "big name" or success complex.

With Parisian frocks or Fifth avenue gowns, she tries to attract the companions. Unfortunately, many modern co-eds are addicted to the same complex, so they may really be impressed or her.

Most college girls are hungry for dates. They'd gladly go on a secret car or bus to the show, but they think they must live up to the taxicab or limousine standard.

Because of this fact, many college men will not ask them for a date. Lonely, they loiter around the sorority houses affecting disdain or bragging about the "big shot" they once dated.

Hundreds of men here at Northwestern will rarely date a co-ed classmate. They prefer to select girls from Brantson and Chicago homes, because they can act natural and have a jolly time when in such company.

With their own co-ed classmates, however, both would try to live up to an artificial standard of sophistication, so neither would fully enjoy the evening.

One reason we tend to over-indulge children is because we obtain pleasure from their unaffected delight. It inflates our vanity when we can be the generous dispenser of candy or toys.

In a very similar way, some men enjoy dating girls who show pleasure and unalloyed delight in going to new places or visiting new theatres, even if they travel by bus or street car instead of by taxi.

Girls, instead of acting bored or intimating that you have seen far better men in other towns or when with other men, at least act delighted.

And don't be affected. The usual college man will ask you for a second date if you follow this psychological prescription and are liberal in tooting his horn.

Phillies to Be Hosts At County Meeting

The Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company will be host Saturday night to the Montgomery County Firemen's association.

The business session will be held in the auditorium of the Senior High school, with President William T. Muldrew, of Jenkintown, in the chair. An address of welcome will be made by President Henry Schumaker, of the host fire company.

Following the meeting, at which an attendance of 400 is expected, refreshments will be served at the firehouse.

Obituaries

The infant daughter of John F. and Sara F. (Drumheller) Mace, died in Pottstown hospital yesterday. Interment will take place in Pottstown West End cemetery tomorrow afternoon.

Surviving besides the parents are the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mace 64 West Seventh street; the maternal grandmother, Sara Decker and step-grandfather, Norman Decker.

HOWARD L. WICKERSHAM, STEUBENVILLE, OHIO, a former resident of Pottstown for many years, died Sunday.

He is survived by his wife, Mary (Sherrard), a daughter, Mrs. Edwin George, Wellsburg, W. Va., a son, Howard L. Jr., and three sisters, Mrs. George Sall, Elizabethtown, Mrs. Charles Price, Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. Floyd Whalen, Harrisburg.

Funeral services will be held and interment will be made today in Steubenville.

Funeral services for ELMER E. MITCH, 507 SPRUCE STREET, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 404 High street.

Officiating was the Rev. Howard A. Kosman, pastor of Zion's Reformed church.

Interment was made in Pottstown West End cemetery. Bearers were Donald Mitten, Fernley Ellis, George Mitten, Henry Mitch, Frank Mitch and Ralph Ralsow.

Detention Home No More; Now It's Montgomery Hall

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Sept. 29—The name of the Montgomery county House of Detention situated near Jeffersonville was changed to Montgomery Hall at a recent meeting of the board of managers composed of County Commissioners Foster K. Hillegass, Fred C. Peters and Raymond K. Mensch, County Controller Frank K. Barker and Sheriff Samuel M. Glass.

Changing of the name of the institution where juveniles charged with minor offenses are sent has been contemplated for a long time. Peter Prasacco, county probation officer, said yesterday, "I was happy to learn of the action of the board. For a long time past I have realized inmates of this institution were sensitive about their residence there on account of the name."

Transfiguration Choir To Sing for Kiwanians

The Transfiguration choir, directed by Mrs. Harold Keim, will sing at the meeting of the Kiwanis club in the Elks' home at 615 o'clock tonight.

In addition to the choral numbers, the soloists for the evening will be Mrs. John Longacre, Mrs. Elsie Bover and Brooke Fryer.

The program was arranged through Leon Huber, chairman of the music committee, who will sing with the group.

TEXAS ROBBERY SOLVED

BALLINGER, Tex., Sept. 29 (AP)—The $17,000 masked robbery here Sept. 20 has been solved with the arrest of two men and recovery of most of the loot, Texas rangers said here today.

Young Man Pays $15 Fine For Disorderly Conduct

Charged with being drunk and disorderly Raymond Hedenberg, 25, of Pottstown RD. 3, was given a hearing last night at borough hall before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward. He paid $15 fine and costs.

Patrolman Irvin K. Frederick testified at the hearing that he arrested Hedenberg at 1:22 o'clock yesterday morning on High street, west of York. The officer testified that Hedenberg was boisterous.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

Tired kidneys are the chief cause of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matters stay in the blood. These poisons may start making backaches, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent uric acid passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is some trouble going with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Tired, 'All-In'-Lisless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red blood from SSS Tonic. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

No Sign of a Let-up

SINCE THE FIRST OF THE YEAR, we've had more than 188,000 applications for telephone service . . . and there is no sign of a let-up.

There's no sign of a let-up, either, in our efforts to provide telephone service for everyone who wants it, anywhere in the territory we serve.

We'll spend $60,000,000 this year to install 16 new central offices, to make major additions to 25, to enlarge 295 others, to string and lay 267,000 miles of outside wire, and to tie everything together into the complex and inter-connected entity which is the telephone system.

Is all this our job alone?

Not by a long shot. Working with us in the long-range job of adding to our permanent telephone system are the scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories; the craftsmen and purchasing agents of Western Electric; and thousands of people like you and your neighbors, who, with part of their savings invested in telephone securities, supply the dollars that build this business and help us to provide the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

Republican Club Cancels Meeting for September

The Pottstown Republican club has suspended its meeting for September.

Officers of the club said last night that late in October a rally will be held at Moose hall when county and local candidates will be present. The date of the rally has not been announced. It will depend on a schedule drafted by the Republican County committee.

Student to Address Lions On His Travels in Europe

"Europe on a Shoestring" will be the topic of Allan M. Peterson Jr., 501 Highland road, when he appears as guest speaker at a meeting of the Lions club tonight.

Peterson, who is now a student at the Warrenton school of the University of Pennsylvania, toured Europe during the past summer in connection with his work with the Youth Hostel groups.

He will speak to the club when it meets in the Elks' home at 6:30 o'clock.

No Funds to Extinguish Fire Burning 7 Months

MT. CARMEL, Sept. 29 (AP)—A fire has been burning for seven months in a coal mine on the outskirts of this eastern Pennsylvania town of 18,000 and there are no State funds to squelch it.

The blaze started in an abandoned scrap mine the past February. Since then it has burned deep into the earth, spreading along a coal vein. Northumberland county officials spent $50,000 in a futile effort to extinguish the blaze.

Gov. James H. Duff, answering an appeal from Mt. Carmel authorities for help in fighting the fire, said today the Commonwealth lacks funds for such purposes. Mt. Carmel officials said the fire was threatening homes and constituted a health menace.

Fire Again Starts At Borough Dump

A portion of the borough dump at the sewage disposal plant, Moore road, burst into flames yesterday afternoon.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears sent a bulldozer to the scene and today firemen will pump water in a ditch which is being dug around the smoldering area.

A fire on the dump was fought three days last week before it was extinguished. Firemen used 68 gallons of gasoline in the pumper which was used in fighting the fire. Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer made a tour of inspection of the dump yesterday. The blaze was blamed on children playing there.

Seven Jurors Picked For Hallowell Trial

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29 (AP)—William K. Hallowell, 22-year-old scientifically-reared adopted son of a child psychologist, went on trial today charged with murder in the deaths of two policemen shot and killed in a gun battle.

Seven jurors, six of them women, had been accepted when Judge Harry S. McDevitt adjourned court until tomorrow. All said they were not opposed to capital punishment.

Hallowell is charged with shooting Sgt. Samuel H. Hewitt and Patrolman James J. Quigley the past April 29 in a gun battle that climaxed the officers' four-mile chase of a stolen car. Following his arrest, Hallowell was hospitalized for treatment of five bullet wounds.

Driver in Accident At Pigeon Creek Face Reckless Charge

Donald Peck, 213 High street, who was injured the past Thursday night when a coupe which he was driving was struck by a heavy sedan, will be charged with reckless driving, Daniel W. Guldin, North Coventry police chief, said yesterday.

Peck will have a hearing before Justice of the Peace Ralph W. Ralston, North Coventry township, upon his release from the Pottstown hospital, Guldin added.

The accident occurred at the Pigeon Creek bridge. Witnesses said that the coupe which Peck was driving was weaving from side to side as it traveled south along Route 100. It was struck in the side by a sedan driven by LeRoy Frame, Eagleville, and was damaged badly.

The coupe was owned by Jacob A. Heil, 80 South Charlotte street. Guldin said that Peck had his permission to use the car.

Advanced Course Opens At Local Fire School

The Pottstown Fire school last night reopened a ten-week advanced course of instruction at the firehouse of the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company.

The 36 members who recently completed a basic course are enrolled for the advanced course which includes various types of fire fighting and rescue work. There are 30 hours of instruction. Sessions will be held each Monday night from 7 to 10 p. m.

Paul H. Mogel, of Reading, is chief instructor of the school and his assistant is his son, Forrest Mogel.

Observe Optimist Week, Governor Duff Urges

HARRISBURG, Sept. 29 (AP) — Declaring Optimist clubs are performing "an important service" in combating juvenile delinquency, Gov. James H. Duff urged Pennsylvanians to join in observance of Oct. 5-11 as Optimist Week.

"It is desirable that such good works continue and expand," he said in a statement, "and that the people of this Commonwealth recognize and appreciate the accomplishments of the Optimist club of Pennsylvania."

CHOLERA SPREADS IN EGYPT

'Y' Members to See Telecast of Series

Members of the Pottstown YMCA will have seats for television broadcast of the World Series beginning tomorrow afternoon in the auditorium of the YMCA building, 338 King street.

The new set, which was bought with money raised from business and professional men, will be unveiled at noon tomorrow. After an hour's testing, the set will be tuned in to New York for the big game. William H. Curtiss, civic leader who led this fund-raising campaign, will miss the opener because of a business trip to Detroit.

Victor F. Patterson, YMCA general secretary, said last night the purchase of the television set was part of the organization's plan for "building a strong, forward-looking program of progressive character education." Among other plans for keeping the YMCA up-to-date are voice recordings and educational records and films, a machine shop with power tools and a snack bar.

FLAGS AT HALF STAFF
PARIS, Sept. 29 (AP) — Every American flag in Europe will fly at half staff Saturday, Oct. 4, when the first ship load of American soldier dead sails from Antwerp, Belgium, Brig. Gen. Howard O. Peckham of the American graves registration command said today.

The District of Columbia has 34 miles of railway lines.

DE SOTO
Lots you drive without shifting

A poll was recently taken of new DE SOTO owners all over the country. They were asked to compare their new cars with all others they had ever owned. The overwhelming majority said "DE SOTO is the best car I ever owned...regardless of price." Please notice those last three words particularly.

Pickpocket Warning Issued by Expert

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Pickpockets will have more trouble getting your wallet if you carry it in your inside pocket, says L. Daniel J. Campion, head of New York's Broadway Squad. Referred to by pickpockets as the "insider" or the "pit," this position requires one of more assistants to obstruct the victim's chin.

Pickpockets usually carry a coat or newspaper over their arms to hide their hands and enable them to drop the wallet if challenged. Campion says they use only a thumb and two fingers. With one or more "tails" (accomplices) they usually jostle a victim to annoy him, he says.

Women's purses placed in vacant theater seats often are stolen by thieves who slip the seats and let the purses slip to the floor.

Swiss Use Glacier Water To Assist Irrigation

MONTANA, Switzerland, Sept. 29 (AP)—This most and part of Switzerland has tapped a glacier with an iron pipe to bring water to the valley. The pipe runs through a tunnel, will replace century-old canals which partially watered the valley.

The cost, $400,000, was borne by federal, cantonal and local governments. In addition to supplying drinking and irrigation water, the pipe will control waters which, in the days of the canals, sometimes broke embankments and inundated villages.

TWO BODIES FOUND

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29 (AP)—Bodies of two of the five persons missing in the Island Queen disaster here Sept. 9 were recovered from the ruins of the excursion steamer as workers began salvage operations today.

Only six percent of all passenger automobiles registered in the United States in 1946 were less than five years old.

As Skirts Go Down, Cuffs Rise

To make certain that her boy friend measures up to standard—as the cuff—comely Joan Murphy checks trouser height above his shoe top. It's all part of a new edict laid down by New York fashion arbiter Tony Williams that cuffs should rise above the shoe. So, while the distaff side tries to make up its mind on long skirts, the male of the species looks like he's in for a cold winter—around the ankles.

Crew Cut Loses Favor Among College Students

ROCKFORD, Ill., Sept. 29 (AP)—The crew cut, the hair styling that made many a man's head look more like a coconut, is losing favor among youths of college age in these parts.

Rockford barbers report demand for the close crop has slumped. One of them, Vito Martorano, attributes the trend to the general prosperity. The lads, he says, now can afford to have longer, locks trimmed more often.

Cloth-short England today is featuring men's ties made from wartime RAP escape maps, and paper collars.

ten through," he said, hinting that Moscow censored stories written by U.S. correspondents about the protest.

The Russian article in question said that Mr. Truman was "straining for the laurels of the corporal from Munich," and had undertaken a drive for "world mastery" on behalf of Wall Street financiers.

It called the President "the messenger boy, bank clerk and tool of the Penicillin machine."

Smith's protest was one of the most sharp, worded notes ever exchanged between this country and Russia.

Coincidentally, it was disclosed that the latest edition of the Soviet literary Gazette, in its No. 40 edition, carried an attack on Secretary of State Marshall under the heading "Shlock from Wall Street."

The article compared Marshall with Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" who demanded a pound of flesh in payment for a loan when money was not forthcoming.

The Gazette is the organ of the union of Soviet writers and has been used as the major springboard for criticism of the United States, officials here said.

In his note to Molotov, Smith declared that an article of Boris Gorkov, published in the Soviet Literary Gazette No. 39 was "wantonly libelous in its personal attack

Markings on Fish Resemble Photographs

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 29 (AP)—Many fishermen believe that the Murray Cod, a perch, found in inland waters of the Murray-Darling river systems, bears a photographic impression of the trees fringing the waters it lives in on the skin of its swim bladder.

It isn't true, of course, but the delicate etching-like markings on the thin wall of the swim bladder often resemble trees. The symmetrical patterns are due to blood vessels.

on the President of the United States."

The note continued: "It cannot permit it to pass without the strongest protest. It has 'abominably shocked me'."

Farmer Finds Gold; But It's Only a Coin

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Sept. 29 (AP)—Leigh Drake struck gold on his 60-acre farm near here—but don't start a gold rush to western Iowa.

He was cultivating corn when he uncovered a gold dollar dated 1849.

Nes, the coin was a piece of broken bottle.

"I thought I really had something," Drake said. "When I saw the piece of bottle, I imagined someone had made a collection of gold coins and buried them."

The farmer found no more coins although he said he "scratched all around the area."

The dollar found by Drake, smaller than a silver dime, is reported worth about $6 as a collector's item.

America Pledges Aid For War Blind Children

LASKI, Poland, Sept. 29 (AP)—Children blinded during the war, now cared for by Franciscan nuns in this little town near Warsaw, are going to get more aid from America.

Henry E. Niles, of Baltimore, representing the American Foundation for Overseas Blind, recently made an inspection of the Laski institution.

Stanton Griffin, U. S. ambassador to Poland, and High Gibson, former ambassador, are honorary chairmen for the American foundation in assisting Polish blind. Griffin has announced he personally is endowing an orphanage to care for 50 blind children.

10 PERSONS DIE IN HAIFA BLAST; 77 ARE INJURED

Barrel of Explosives
Planted by Terrorists
Hits Police Station

JERUSALEM, Sept. 29 (AP)—A barrel of explosives ingeniously rolled over a large wire barrier hit a district police headquarters in Haifa today, killing 10 persons and injuring 77. The Jewish underground said it launched the attack to avenge the deportation of the "Exodus 1947" Jews to Hamburg, Germany.

The dead were Britons and Arabs, including a 16-year-old Arab girl. Fourteen of the injured were Jewish civilians.

British forces reacted immediately. Troops of the Sixth Airborne division rushed into Haifa with Bren gun carriers, armored cars and tanks.

Subsequently police said they had arrested four suspects in the Hadar Hacarmel Jewish quarter half-way up historic Mount Carmel which overlooks the port. Authorities also found an abandoned truck. It contained a "Y" shaped steel device which officials said might have been used to launch the barrel.

While the search for suspects was being pressed, Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization, issued a pronouncement saying "We have paid back for the shame of Hamburg and the shame of expulsion from the fatherland and for the bloodstain of our brothers."

The barrel of explosives, Irgun said, equalled the deadly force of a 2000-pound bomb.

The blast occurred at 6 a. m. four days after Britain announced a decision to surrender her old League of Nations mandate over Palestine. Windows within a radius of a quarter of a mile were shattered.

Parts of bodies were blown 50 yards across a wide avenue into buildings opposite the headquarters. A water main was broken and power and telephone lines were snarled.

Five-witness report said that an Arab policeman on duty outside the headquarters, whose shout of warning was cut off by the blast, was decapitated and his head was left hanging in the barbed wire barrier 15 yards from his body.

Four British and four Arab policemen were killed as were the 16-year-old Arab girl and a Syrian coffee vendor. The coffee vendor's body was slashed almost to ribbons by flying debris.

U. S. Vessel Hits Mine in Adriatic; Three Sailors Killed

TRIESTE, Sept. 29 (P)—Three men died today when the 2200-ton U. S. destroyer Douglas H. Fox struck a mine in the upper Adriatic sea 18 miles off Trieste.

Twelve other men were injured, four of them critically, by the explosion which knocked out both of the destroyer's propellers and both rudders. All of the casualties were enlisted men. Names of the dead and injured were not released immediately.

Naval headquarters here said the Fox had about 200 men aboard when she struck the mine while en route to Trieste from Venice. The explosion occurred in waters which still contain war-laid minefields.

A sister destroyer, the James G. Owen, went to the Fox's rescue. One man died on the Fox almost immediately. Two others succumbed aboard the Owen which took aboard the Fox's casualties.

Transfer of the casualties was carried out by tug sent to the scene to tow the Fox to a Venice drydock. The Owen had been unable to go alongside because the Fox was listing.

Capt. R. N. McFarlane of Graham Tex., commander of the Second Squadron of which the Fox is part, was aboard the Owen, his flagship. He said the Fox had a large hole aft below the waterline and that her lower after decks were awash.

Easion Workers Strike Over Contract Demands

EASTON, Sept. 29 (P)—Employees of the Treadwell Engineering company plant here members of the United Steelworkers (CIO) struck today and placed pickets around the plant.

Tol's Name Withdrawn From Election Ballot

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29 (P)—The name of Martin Steineitz Jr. was withdrawn today from a list of three candidates for the post of judge of elections in this Philadelphia suburb.

Martin's father explained, is only 21 months old and "hardly qualified to assume the duties incumbent upon a judge of election."

His name was one of three written on ballots at the recent primary election. Each received one vote, the only ballots cast for the post. Somebody the elder Steineitz suggested, used a vote as a practical joke.

DEATH TOLL AT TEN

COLBORNE, Ont., Sept. 29 (P)—Sarnia and Colonial Steamships, Ltd., today reported a toll of 10 dead, two missing and 10 injured among the 23 crew members of the company's coal carrier Milverton which collided with the tanker Translake and burned in the St. Lawrence river Wednesday.

Dock Fire Causes Five Million Loss

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (P)—The worst dock fire ever to strike the world's busiest port swept through a Hudson river pier today, injuring 132 firemen, crumpling the pier into the water and destroying $5,000,000 worth of property.

Eighty pieces of fire equipment fought the flames after their discovery last night at Pier 57 and brought them under control in the early morning. But the fire, its cause undetermined, continued to smolder.

Huge sections of the pier, used to berth Grace liners plying to South America, fell into the water after being weakened by the fire and the tons of water poured on it.

Only a 75-foot section adjacent to the shore remained of the 1000-foot pier. Firemen were successful in checking spread of the flames to Piers 56 and 58.

None of the firemen was reported seriously hurt. At least two were thrown into the water and rescued.

Russia Fails to Win U. S. Backing For Three Satellites in U. N. Bid

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 29 (P)—Still holding the threat of a veto over Italy's head, Russia's Andrei Gromyko failed today, in another effort to force the United States to support three Soviet satellites for admission to the United Nations. Gromyko then relinquished the chairmanship of the Security Council under a monthly rotation plan with the formal votes still to come.

Renewed Russian insistence that the Soviet Union would not support Italy unless Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland also were taken into the U. N. did not sway the United States from its stand that only Italy and Finland should be accepted.

Realizing that the veto threat was making little impression on other delegates, Gromyko turned to Finland and the Soviet neighbor promptly appealed for a big five effort at compromise. Only Gromyko of the major powers, supported the last-ditch step and the final vote on the five countries was set for next Wednesday.

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain will have the gavel then when Gromyko is expected to block Italy with a veto for a second time.

Debate over the ex-enemy countries came on the eve of ceremonies inducing Yemen and Pakistan as the 56th and 57th members. Both were due for formal approval by the General Assembly at Flushing Meadows.

Tomorrow as the only successful applicants so far among the 13 who applied or re-applied this year. Sir Mohammad Zafrarullah Khan was to sign for Pakistan and Prince Saifur Islam Abdulla for Yemen in ceremonies in the assembly chamber. Flags of the two Asiatic Moslem countries will be run up outside U. N. headquarters simultaneously with the vote.

Gromyko insisted that the U. S. and Britain were obliged to vote favorably for the five ex-enemy states en bloc under the Potsdam agreement. The western powers denied such a pact and questioned human rights under the present regimes in Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. Finland did not come up for discussion but both the U. S. and Britain were understood to be supporting her.

U. S. Group Seeks Data On Argentine Wheat

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 29 (P)—A United States Army mission arrived today to confer on the possibility of buying Argentine grain to feed Europe this winter.

The mission emphasized that its primary duty was to determine how much Argentine grain would be available, how soon it could be shipped and the price.

Masked Gunmen Get $200,000 In Club Holdup

PLAINFIELD, O., Sept. 29 (P)—Masked men clad in GI fatigues clothes punctuated a daring holdup of the exclusive Mounds club early today by firing shots into the ceiling and made off with an estimated $200,000.

Some 250 men and jewel-adorned women at the swank gambling club, witnesses related, watched a band of some 10 robbers break up the floor show at about 12:30 a. m. and proceed to loot patrons and the club's till of cash, jewelry and furs. Most carried machine guns, they said.

The entire report was available only from patrons of the club and an unofficial estimate of the loot by Deputy Sheriff Edward Cook and Clarence Ann. Thus, said 33-year-old Lake county Sheriff James Moloney, was because an employee slammed the door in his face when he arrived to investigate late this morning.

Red Cross Board Hears Talk by Philadelphia Woman

"Plans and requests come from the hospitals that service given during the war be continued. This service consisted of entertainment, parties, and gifts in kind, to the patients still in the armed service." Miss Jean Menough, secretary of community services to camps and hospitals of the Southeastern chapter of the American Red Cross at the branch headquarters at 361 High street.

Directors were present from Schwenksville, Spring City, Royersford, and local directors with Mrs. Harold Cammus, as chairman.

The three veterans hospitals served in this area are Valley Forge General U S Naval, and the Veterans hospital at Coatesville.

Mrs. Hugh McDevitt, camp and hospital chairman reported the following gifts to the veterans hospitals:

Three birthday gifts for NP patients, 27 books, 150 victrola records, 26 pocket size Bibles, one large box of Father's Day cards, 29 decks of playing cards, one box of checkers, one jigsaw puzzle, two baseball mitts, one assorted puzzle, one album of records, 20 pounds of salted peanuts, one large plant, two radio sets and one record player.

The center has been active with parties at Valley Forge and Coatesville.

It was announced that registration is open for two home nursing classes, one in baby care and another in general nursing.

Mrs. Iva Housa Shamer has been recently appointed branch chairman of home nursing.

The activity of seven Junior Red Cross classes in the Junior High school were reported by Miss Elizabeth Yerges. The junior group has almost completed two afghans.

Mrs. John Sannomann announced that the Home Service committee has been meeting monthly.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Trinity Reformed church donated 40 afghans which were channeled through the Red Cross to Valley Forge General hospital and the two local hospitals, Pottstown and Memorial. This project was under the direction of Mrs. Elmer H. Young.

Conductor Halts Train To Save Man on Tracks

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP) — A train of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad was halted by an emergency signal today, with the wheels of one car only six inches from the right arm of an 82-year-old New York man who had fallen to the rails as the train started from the station here.

The conductor, D. G. Hicks, Maplewood, told police he saw the man, identified as William Leeb, New York, fall after the train had started from the station. Hicks pulled the emergency cord.

Leeb suffered a broken nose when part of the undercarriage of a car of the westbound train struck him. He was taken to Orange Memorial hospital.

PAYMENTS INCREASED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29 (AP) — Dick Powell will increase his support payments to his ex-wife, Joan Blondell, from $2400 to $3600 a year as a result of an out-of-court settlement of a demand by Miss Blondell for $14,000 a year.

Death Penalty Sought For 23 Nazi Leaders

NUERNBERG, Germany, Sept. 29 (AP) — American prosecutors, asking the death penalty for 23 Nazi commanders charged with war crimes, declared today the defendants led terror squads which massacred more than 1,000,000 persons in a planned attempt to wipe out whole races.

In statements made at the opening of the trial, the prosecutors said the systematic killing of Jews, Russians and gypsies by these "Einsatz" groups was carried out on a scale which "nearly defies human imagination." The leaders of such groups, the prosecutors added, are worthy of only the hangman's rope.

Jew Slain, Three Hurt in Battle Near Vienna

VIENNA, Sept. 29 (AP) — French and American intelligence sources said tonight that one Jew was killed and three others were injured Sunday morning during a bloody battle in a displaced persons camp near Innsbruck.

The sources said the fighting was reported to have occurred between two factions, known as the Betar group and the Brycha group, both of which are involved in the transport of Jewish refugees from Eastern Europe to Palestine.

Austrian police were said to have arrested 60 members of the Betar group.

The original habitat of the wild turkey stretched from New England to Florida and westward to the Dakotas and southward from Ontario to Southern Mexico.

Boyertown Teachers Plan to Attend U. N. Assembly; Schools Close Oct. 17

A change in the school calendar for the year will result in the closing of all borough schools on Friday, Oct. 17, it was announced yesterday by George B. Swinehart, supervising principal.

Schools will remain in session on Wed., Oct. 22, he said. This is the day originally designated as teachers' vacation day.

Schools will be closed on Oct. 17 to allow local teachers either to visit the United Nations in New York or to attend the Eastern District Pennsylvania State Education association convention in Reading. The UN trip is being sponsored by the social studies teachers of Berks county.

A poll of local teachers yesterday revealed that 26 have decided to take action.

They will leave by special bus from Reading, along with other Berks social studies teachers, and will be furnished with guide service at UN headquarters.

A number of teachers not going to New York will go to Reading to participate in the PSEA sessions there. Daniel A. Rohrbach, Boyertown science teacher, is the high school delegate from the Berks branch of PSEA.

On the same day, Boyertown High will be host to a meeting of the Schoolmen's club of Berks county, a group made up of administrators and supervisors. They will meet for dinner in the high school cafeteria at 5 p.m. and will be addressed by Prof. Harvey R. Vandenberg, professor of education at Ursinus college, Collegeville. Emphasis of the meeting will be on proposal for change in the secondary school curriculum.

High School Notes

Although the Boyertown Bears dropped their grunion opener to Royersford on Saturday, spirit for the team was high yesterday in the student assembly at 9:40 a. m.

Mrs. Marcia Krysa, school librarian, announced a display on football and the Bears in the library this week. Featured are two goal posts at the ends of a book rack. Students coming into the library walk under the posts in approaching the desk.

Mrs. Krysa also read a poem which she wrote on Saturday's game, in which she praised the courage and sportsmanship of the team. Her recital of it was greeted with sustained applause by the student body.

St. John's Teachers Plan Worship Meeting

Teachers and officers of the Main department of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church will meet at the home of Superintendent and Mrs. Harvey D. Ritter, 301 East Philadelphia avenue, on Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m. Topic for the meeting will be "Worship."

$1200 Prize Money To Be Awarded for Hallowe'en Parade

Prizes totalling $1200 for Boyertown's Der Gnom Karneval, scheduled for Monday, Nov. 3, were announced last night at a meeting of the committee in Meist's News agency.

Newest addition to the list is a group of awards totalling $150 for floats. First prize in this division is $75; second, $50; and third, $25.

Other awards are scheduled as follows: largest organization with music, first, $75; second, $50; and third, $25; largest organization without music, first, $50, and second, $25.

Musical organizations—bands, first, $100, and second, $50; senior drum and bugle corps, first, $100, and second, $50; junior drum and bugle corps, first, $100, and second, $50.

Best group of ten or more participants, first, $35; second, $25; and third, $15; best group of less than ten, first, $25; second, $15; and third, $10; most comical groups, first, $15; second, $10; and third, $5.

Children's prizes will total $77.50. Prizes for individuals and couples follow: best-dressed couple, $5; most original couple, $5; most comical couple, $5; best tramp, $5; best clown, $5; most comical individual, $5; farthest individual, $5; and most original individual, $5. Special prizes totalling $100 are scheduled to be awarded.

Route of the parade will be as follows: forming at the Hub, South Reading avenue and Second street, it will proceed to Philadelphia avenue where it will turn East on Philadelphia avenue to Berks street. It will march North on Berks to East Fourth street, proceeding on East Fourth to Chestnut street, where marchers will turn North to East Fifth street. The parade will move on Fifth street to Shaner street, and then to North Reading avenue. It will then move on North Reading avenue to Philadelphia avenue, then west on the latter street to Rittenhouse square, with disbanding point set as College street.

All organizations entering the parade are to register at Meist's News agency, corner of East Philadelphia avenue and Washington street, by Saturday, Nov. 1. Members of the committee emphasized that there is no registration fee. Those registering will indicate if they are accompanied by a musical organization.

The parade will form at The Hub at 7:30 p.m. and be prepared to move promptly at 8 p.m.

A Boy Scout tent will be provided for registration and assignment of numbers on the night of the parade at The Hub. Late arrivals will have to fall in line at the rear of the marching column. Prizes will be distributed at Charles B. Yerger post 471, American Legion home, after the parade has ended.

The committee met Monday, Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m., at its next meeting night. Members will again convene at Meist's News agency.

Two Accident Victims File Suits for Damages

Two area men have filed a $44,240 suit in Berks county court against Strohmann Brothers company of Williamsport, and A. Joseph Besch, of Harrisburg, for personal injuries they suffered in a motor accident on the road from Yellow House to Earlville on Jan. 21, 1946.

They are Melvin S. Kuser, of Earl township, and Amos S. Kuser, of Bechtelsville. The complaint alleges that Melvin Kuser was operating a station wagon at the time of the collision and Amos was a passenger. They charge negligence on the part of Besch, who was driving a motor vehicle belonging to the Williamsport company.

Melvin Kuser is asking $38,000 for damages for personal injuries he sustained as well as damages to his vehicle. He suffered fractures of both knee caps and other injuries. Amos Kuser claims $2500 for personal injuries. Darlington Hoopes, of Reading, is attorney.

Jurist Rules Pastor Must Start Jail Term

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 29 (AP)—Dr. John Lewis, 72-year-old Presbyterian pastor convicted of arson in the burning of his Milwaukee church the past winter, must begin serving a one to five-year sentence in State prison immediately.

The prominent churchman's imprisonment was ordered today by State Supreme Court Justice Oscar M. Fritz after he denied further stay of execution pending a high court hearing on an appeal. The appeal probably will not come up until the November calendar.

Dr. Lewis was convicted and sentenced in June for the $150,000 fire which swept fashionable downtown Calvary church the past January. He had remained free on several stays of sentence.

145 Persons Attend Youth Rally Held At Nazarene Church

A Twin-Borough youth rally, held in the Church of the Nazarene, Royersford, Saturday night, was attended by 145 members of the various churches in Twin Boroughs.

Malcolm Ottenger, local Young People's president, of the host church, greeted the group, after which the ministers were introduced by the host pastor, the Rev. George Andrews. The Rev. Paul Baer, song leader, led the congregation in the opening songs and choruses.

A reading was given by Helen Wade, of Royersford Brethren church. The Rev. Franklin P. Watts offered the prayer. Vocal selections were given by the Weber Sisters, of the Evangelical Congregational church, a chorus from the Nazarene church, and the Glee Club, of the Nazarene church. The Rev. George Andrews, pastor of the Nazarene church, gave the closing prayer.

The Rev. Grant H. Seidel, guest speaker, used as his theme, "Youth for Christ." Using the letters in the word youth to plead the cause of youth.

He said youth must yield to Christ, occupy for Christ, unite with Christ's church, trust in Christ and hold on to Christ.

He urged the churches to cooperate in their youth rallies for the sake of the youth, and went on to say "Keep our youth clean for they are the church of tomorrow, and if we don't prepare them now, we won't have any tomorrow."

Miss Ruth Becker, guest organist, gave several selections on the organ. The rally was concluded with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers." Another youth rally is being considered for next month.

Traffic Violators Receive Summonses

In receipt of many complaints of speeding, particularly on Washington street, Police Chief Bryson Turner, Royersford, who recently issued a warning to motorists that arrests would be made if caused summonses to be issued for two violators, charged with using Washington street as a speedway.

More will follow, as soon as they are caught, the chief advised, and will pay the penalty for violations. He also said violators would be turned in for not observing the white lines designating cross walks.

A dog owner also will be summoned before a magistrate for allowing his dog to run at large without collar or license, following several notices which were sent him. Authorities said they would accommodate violators who wish to learn the hard way.

Eight Scout Troops Make Plans for Autumn Outings

The Fall program for Pottstown area Boy Scouts was in full swing last night as eight troops held meetings featured by plans for camping trips, guest speakers and two deadlocks.

Nine members of Troop 6 made plans for a scrap drive and a three-day camping trip during their meeting in Trinity Reformed church. The scrap drive will take place Oct. 25. Only church members will be canvassed and the collection will be announced at the preceding Sunday's service. Money raised from the drive will be used to treat the troop to a college or professional football game in Philadelphia.

Troop 6 decided to go to Camp Hopewell, Chester county, on Oct. 17, 18 and 19 for a weekend of hiking and advancement work. Russell Gieger, a Neighborhood commissioner, spoke on the Scout-O-Rama to be held in Pottstown this Fall and Joseph Hinkel, troop committeeman, announced that the group's room will be in another and larger part of the church as soon as arrangements are completed.

The opening ceremony was conducted by George McCormick, Walt Ziegler, assistant scoutmaster, was in charge. His trip to Camp Hopewell will be made Oct. 10, 11 and 12, it was voted by 12 scouts meeting in First Methodist church.

F. G. Schellenberger, assistant scoutmaster, instructed the boys in proper preparation of a pack. They were given an observation test to see if they could detect rapidly what parts of a loaded pack were unnecessary.

It took a play-off item to determine the winning patrol in the last scavenger hunt conducted by Troop 7 from Searles Memorial Methodist church. Both the Wolf and the Ram patrol collected all but one item of a list that included one strand of hair from a red head and a live spicer. In a run-off, the Ram patrol won by producing a rum wrapper after a wild dash to the store. The hunt was supervised by Raymond Stenter, scoutmaster.

Another deadlock resulted at the meeting of Troop 2 in Christ Episcopal church. When names for newly-formed patrols were suggested it was discovered both patrols wanted Eagle as one of the patrol names. One patrol being called Eagle and the other, Flying Eagle.

District Commissioner Russell Gieger addressed the group on its Fall program, and Scoutmaster Walter Schuber formally welcomed one new member. After the meeting a game of "Capture the Flag" was played.

Carol Ziegler gained 50 points in Troop 5's Fall contest by bringing to the meeting a home-constructed electric fireplace for the scout room in Zion's Reformed church. Billy Bradigan scored his first points by officially being accepted as a tenderfoot scout. After instruction in first aid, safety and signaling the troop retired to the rifle range in the basement, where Edgar Jones and Richard Reigner won honors with high scores of 26 and 22 respectively.

William Glenner Jr. appeared twice in the news from Troop 18's meeting in St. James Lutheran church. After leading a discussion of health and safety, he was elected assistant patrol leader of the Wolf patrol, replacing Jack Shamus, who recently moved from the borough.

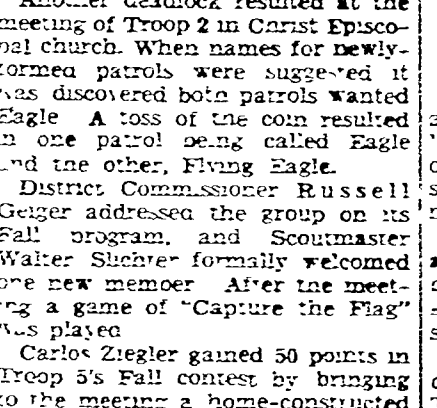

Scoutmaster Edward Jameson announced that a meeting of all leaders will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in his home, 1918 Queen street, to make plans for the troop's meetings in October.

Other features of the session were a song session, a ducking contest between scouting scouts and a snort-tying game that ended in a scoreless tie.

Sherwood Yerger passed his tenderfoot test at the meeting of Troop 19. The rest of the brief

DRIFTIN' AROUND

GEORGE "PEEWEE" MITRO, former Pottstown High star athlete, returned home the past week after playing his first season in minor league baseball.

Mitro joined the Waterloo Hawks of the Three-I league in mid-season and played second base in 63 games. The Hawks are a Class-B farm team of the Chicago White Sox.

Mitro is well known in Pottstown because of his ability as a third baseman, but when he went to Waterloo, he was shifted to second base. In the 63 games he played, Mitro was charged with making only five errors. His batting average was a cool .302.

Waterloo pun on a last desperate game late in the season to finish fourth place in the Three-I league standings. The Hawks then went on to defeat Terre Haute in the semi-finals of the Shagbush playoffs and continued to beat Danville, the pennant winners, in the finals for the league championship. Mitro batted over .400 in the semi-finals of the playoffs.

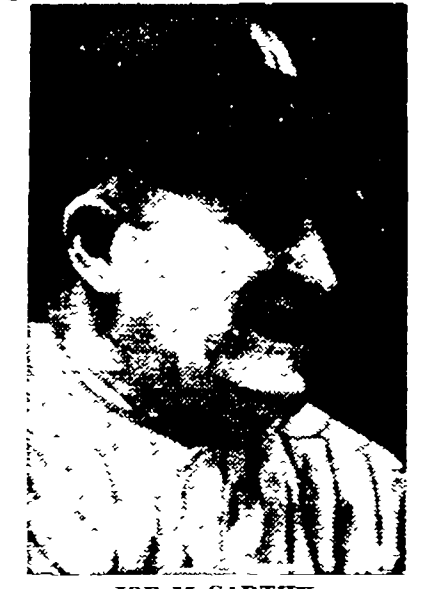

Yesterday, Mitro returned to Lock Haven State Teachers college where he played basketball for the past two years. He is entering the school this fall as a member of the junior class.

THE Arrow bowling alleys have been in Pottstown for the past nine years, and it wasn't until the past Friday night that a bowler made a 7-10 split on the Arrow alleys.

The 7-10 split is just about the toughest shot to make in bowling, but Elwood "Wood" Rath made it look easy the past Friday night while bowling for the Orioles in the City-Classic league.

The Orioles were bowling against Dreamland Park in the City-Classic league and Rath, like

Joe McCarthy Replaces Cronin As Manager of Boston Red Sox

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—"Marse Joe" McCarthy, who led the Yankees to eight pennants and seven world championships before he retired last year because of ill health, came back to the big show today as the new manager of the Boston Red Sox.

Joe Cronin, whom he succeeds as pilot of the Sox, announced that McCarthy, after an all-night discussion, had signed a two-year contract at an undisclosed salary and would take charge of the team "at once."

Cronin, who has managed the Boston club since 1934, advances to the post of general manager in succession to Eddie Collins, who has been handicapped by illness. Collins will remain in an advisory capacity as vice-president.

The move had not been unexpected. For many months it has been rumored that the wealthy hub team was trying to land McCarthy as its field leader, and that Joe was beginning to feel restless in his self-imposed exile on his farm near Buffalo.

Talking with the press after today's announcement, McCarthy said his health had improved greatly through his long rest and admitted he had "felt the urge" to get back in a uniform. He said he could have joined several other teams, but had chosen the Red Sox.

Cronin emphasized that his successor would have complete charge of the Sox, who fell to third place in the American league this season after having won the flag last year and lost to St. Louis in the World Series. McCarthy, he added, would have the final say on all player deals.

The latter clause in Joe's contract is most unusual. Ordinarily it is the general manager or the club president who reserves the right to veto player deals. The fact that the Sox gave McCarthy such wide powers was a possible indication of how badly they wanted the wizard of the dugout.

PANFILE WINS 2D WEEKLY GRID CONTEST

Picks Nine Winners Out of Ten Games; Trollinger Cops Second

Quite a few upsets were seen in the football world the past weekend, but they didn't fool one Pottstown football fan as he picked nine winners correct in The Mercury's second weekly football contest.

Al Panfile, 443 Chestnut street, even picked Upper Merion to beat Pottstown as he turned in a near perfect entry blank with nine winners out of ten games. The game which Panfile missed was the Oklahoma A & M-Texas Christian contest. Panfile picked Texas Christian, but Oklahoma took a 14-7 decision.

Oregon State, regarded as one of the strongest teams in the Pacific Coast conference, was upset by Utah, but Panfile had the latter to win by a 18-12 score. The Rice-LSU game also was missed by a lot of fans, but Panfile again got his brain to work and picked LSU. LSU won, 21-14.

Panfile, by winning the second weekly contest, will receive four tickets to Friday night's game on Franklin Field between Pottstown High school and Bristol High.

The second prize of two tickets to the same game goes to Russell Trollinger, 1247 Queen street, who picked eight winners along with three other entries. Trollinger, however, was more accurate in picking the scores and was the judges' choice for second prize.

Trollinger missed the Wisconsin-Purdue game and the Oregon State-Utah fray. He was one of the five persons who picked Upper Merion to beat Pottstown.

Oscar Darlington, Richard Mensch and Carlton Blum also picked eight winners, but were farther off than was Trollinger in selecting the correct scores. Trollinger picked the correct score of LSU's 21-14 win over Rice and was only a point away from picking Southern California's 21-0 win over Washington State. He picked Southern California by 20-0.

Actual scores:

Upper Merion	25	Pottstown	14
Wisconsin	32	Purdue	14
Columbia	20	Pittsburgh	14
LSU	21	Rice	14
So. California	21	Washington State	0
Oklahoma A & M	7	Oregon State	6
Utah	18	Rice	12
Indiana	14	Nebraska	6
Muhlenberg	22	Lafayette	0
Georgia Tech	19	Tennessee	0

Panfile's scores:

Upper Merion	13	Pottstown	7
Wisconsin	20	Purdue	0
Columbia	7	Rutgers	0
LSU	21	Rice	0
So. California	14	Washington State	0
Oklahoma A & M	0	Oregon State	0

NORCO LOSES TWO PLAYERS BY INJURIES

Spirit Holds as Six Boys Report for Practice; Guard Is Out for Season

A huge ghost-like hand reached over the North Coventry gridiron the past Saturday afternoon and carried away two football players who may be kept off the football field for the remainder of the current season.

The kidnapping was watched by a large group of fans who saw the Wildcats take an easy 30-0 decision from Collegedale. Despite the protests of the crowd, the ghost-like hand went about his business and claimed his two victims.

The hand, one of the many ghost-like limbs belonging to "Old Pop Injury" took Wilmer Swinehart and Tim Batdorf away from the Wildcats. Swinehart may be missed for the remainder of the season, but there is hope that Batdorf will be back in three weeks.

Swinehart, starting right guard, was injured in the second period and was immediately taken out of the game. He is suffering from a dislocated left shoulder, and reports from Dr. George Longaker reveal that he will probably be sitting out the rest of the Wildcats' games.

Batdorf suffered a lung injury in the second period, but was allowed to finish the game. Dr. Hayden O. Evans said last night that Batdorf's injury is hard to understand and he really doesn't know how long it will be before the Wildcat captain will be able to return to his fullback position.

Swinehart was playing a brilliant game for Norco at his right guard position during the first period, and his loss will hurt the Wildcats. Collegedale and scored three of Norco's five touchdowns and passed to Johnny McElroy for another. He also called the plays in the Norco huddle.

The Norco spirit came back to life yesterday afternoon, however, when six boys reported to Paolan and revealed their plans of trying out for the team with the hope of filling the two open spots.

Among these six boys were Bill McCrudden and Don Rothenberger, two lads who saw plenty of action the past season in a Red and White uniform. Both boys suffered injuries prior to the start of football.

Ed. Dyer Signs Contract With St. Louis Cards

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29 (P)—Eddie Dyer, whose St. Louis Cardinals made a spirited but unsuccessful bid to repeat as National league champions after a miserable start this season, signed a one-year contract today to continue as manager of the club.

Signing of the 46-year-old Texan was announced after a brief conference between Dyer and owner Sam Breador. They said the new agreement was "mutually satisfactory" but adhered to custom in refusing to reveal terms.

Both Breador and Dyer said they were expecting the club to do well next year. "We have a good ball practice this fall and were unable to report before yesterday."

McCrudden was hurt in an auto accident and Rothenberger was injured in the 1946 Thanksgiving Day game with West Pottsgrove. Their injuries are now completely healed and both boys again have the urge to play football.

The other boys who Paolan will have to work with are Clyde Reppert, Don Reppert, Cuthbert Naim and Bill Dolhanczyk.

Paolan, with the aid of his assistant, Nick Giunta, will have only four days to look over his new material before making a decision on his two new starters for Saturday's game with Marple Newtown at Marple Newtown.

73,000 Fans Are Expected To Watch First Contest; Branca and Shea Will Pitch

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—A smoldering set of Brooklyn Dodgers took a final sharpening-up on their home diamond at Ebbets Field today in preparation for tomorrow's opening World Series clash at Yankee Stadium with the New York Yankees proud and inhospitable champions of the American league.

Every Dodger, from Manager Burr Shotton right down to the ball boy, was doing a slow burn because the National league winners were not invited to practice at the site of the first two games. It was believed to mark the first time in Series history that a club had not been given a chance to study the hillocks and shadows of its rival's playing pasture.

Shotton, 63-year-old pilot of the Brooks, suggested a week ago that he would like his team to tear up the field at the Stadium today. The idea was given such a cold reception by the Manager, Reddy Harris of the Yanks that the Dodger higher-ups recoiled and refused to make an official request that they be accepted as house guests.

Harris said today that no request had been received from the Dodgers for permission to drill in the Stadium and added "that we haven't asked for permission to workout in Ebbets Field, either."

It has the making of a fine feud between the Series antagonists, and at least assures a splendid atmosphere of acrimony when they tie up at 1:30 (Pottstown time) tomorrow.

Though Shotton had not named his opening pitcher, it appeared virtually certain that he would use his ace, 21-year-old Ralph Branca, of Mount Vernon, N. Y. Branca, a 200-pound right-hander, won 21 while losing 12 during the season. He is a pitcher who needs a full three-day rest between starts, so Shotton must use him at the start if he is to make sure of employing him twice against the Yanks.

Shotton's alternative is to start Little Vic Lombardi, a left-hander with good control and a tricky curve. This was considered only an outside possibility.

Harris already had selected his brilliant freshman right-hander, Frank (Spec) Shea, of Naugatuck, Conn. Shea, who pitched for Oakland in the coast league last season, will be the first rookie ever to open a World Series for an American league team. He posted a 14-5 record this year.

Writer Reveals Greenberg to Leave Pirates

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph today quoted Hank Greenberg as saying he "will not be with" the Pittsburgh Pirates next year — despite support from "at least one of the Pirate co-owners" for his installation as club manager.

"Hank would not give his reason for not returning," said Charles J. (Chilly) Doyle, the newspaper's veteran baseball writer. "It was learned, however, that Greenberg would stay in the sport indefinitely. He wants to be a manager or a club owner and he probably will play another season if his contemplated arm operation is successful."

Greenberg was troubled all season here with an arm ailment, diagnosed as floating bone chips near the right elbow.

Doyle said one of the Pirate co-owners, John Galbreath, of Columbus, O., "wants to place Greenberg's name high among the list of those to be considered to succeed the resigned Billy Herman as manager."

Rumors that Greenberg would not return next year have been frequent for several weeks. The big slugger thus far has refused to commit himself on his plans. Club president Frank McKinney, Indianapolis banker, said recently that Greenberg's contract here obligated him for one year only.

Greenberg left the city after the final 1947 game yesterday, presumably to return to New York. All top Pirate officials also have gone to New York to attend the World Series.

He broke off tackle from the eight-yard line to reach pay dirt.

Ellis' junior varsity team disposed of the Pottstown High school band eleven by a 39-0 score Sunday afternoon on The Hill far fields.

Ford Calls for Top-Level Production To Build Global Economic Structure

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29 (AP)—A bold approach to what he described as not simply a temporary "post-war" problem but the gigantic task of building an economic base for future peace, was urged by Henry Ford today.

In an address delivered before members of the Automotive and Aviation Manufacturers Inc., the president of the Ford Motor company asserted that "the world is down in an immense hole and the only way we can all get out is through production."

"The nub of today's problem, I think, is that people all over the world are starved for things that the world's present production cannot come close to meeting," Ford said.

"If we can agree that the number one problem of the world today is production, I think we must also recognize that filling the vast economic hole left by World War II is beyond the strength of any one nation, including the United States.

"So far as our own best interests are concerned, it seems clear that our job is not only to continue to increase the productive capacity of America, but to do everything we can to rebuild and expand the ability of the rest of the world to produce. Unless the whole world achieves greater wealth and security, America cannot hope to maintain high living standards. We are all in one boat together and if it sinks at one end, it sinks all over."

Ford compared the productive, earning and purchasing capacity of the average Russian with that of the average American, and termed the Russian showing "a pretty dismal record."

Why is it, he asked, "that this I am the state's business, tried true and again in one form or another, always fails in the long run to produce a good?"

"It is because men must have opportunity. Hope without opportunity is a bag of nothing."

"It will take long years of education, communication and contact to bring about the compromises among points of view which alone can make the human race at last one people at peace. And that, in my opinion, can be achieved only under democratic conditions of human freedom and opportunity."

After bequeathing personal effects to her husband, she awarded most of the remainder to her children, Alfred R., Charles E., Warren, Elsie S., George S., Forrest W., Elmer B. and Earl F. Haas, and Elizabeth Hafer and Cora R. Smith, 13 sons, Alfred, Charles and George are named executors.

Two Firms Fined $100 For Polluting Streams

COATESVILLE, Sept. 29 (AP)—Fines of $100 each were imposed today by Alderman Ernest J. Sellers on the Lukens Steel company and Eagle Paper Mills company, charged with polluting streams with industrial wastes.

Horace A. Pyle, a State fish warden, charged that sulphuric acid, kerosene and other wastes from the two plants, killed many fish in two branches of Brandywine creek.

Corn Husking Meet To Be Held Oct. 8 At Center Square

Montgomery county's 1947 champion corn husker will be chosen Wednesday, Oct. 8, when the area's best husking talent competes for $83 in cash prizes at Normandy Farms, Center Square.

The contest, sponsored by Pomona Grange, will take place in a field along Morris road, west of Route 202.

Any resident of Montgomery county is eligible to compete in this event and the committee hopes that there will be a good representation of contestants.

All persons desiring to enter the contest should report to the committee by 10 a. m. The preliminary event, which will start at 10:30 a. m., will determine those to participate in the main event at 1 p. m.

Following the main event there will be two special contests of 10 minutes each. One will be for male residents of Montgomery county over 65 years of age, and the other for women.

Prizes will be awarded to all contestants of each event. In the main event the first prize will consist of $25, second of $20, third of $15, fourth of $10, fifth of $8, and sixth of $5.

The general committee in charge of the contest is as follows: E. F. Bechtel, chairman; Carl Dunmire, Amos Walton, Charles Rankin, Ludwig Zipp, Cresson Zimmerman, Harold Allebach, Merrill Zimmerman, Elias Sellers, R. G. Walz, J. H. Book and Charles Shepherd.

REGAINS RATING

Public Speaking Course Opening Attracts 13

The YMCA public-speaking course opened last night in the YMCA auditorium with 13 students learning the fundamentals of speech under the direction of the Rev. George A. Lincker, pastor of Christ Episcopal church.

The 13 included one woman, Mrs. Fred W. Sonns, 1204 Queen street, and a number of former GIs. The group was characterized by the Rev. Lincker as "young, far-sighted people who are planning to go somewhere."

Each student was given a chance to read a passage and receive suggestions about enunciation and stance.

Next week the member course will prepare a three speech on a topic of their choice.
